

Programme Educational Objectives

- The broad knowledge of computer applications for successful careers in industry.
- The habit of lifelong learning for career development in this dynamic and rapidly changing field.
- The ability to inculcate effective communication in the team through demonstration of good analytical, design, development and implementation skills.